

UNIVERSITY OF DIVINITY LIBRARY INFORMATION - 2020

LIBRARIES

The Libraries affiliated with the University of Divinity and its Colleges are critical to the University's mission. Their combined collections, together with the online resources available via the University's Library Hub, provide access for all members of the University community to an extensive range of resources that support excellence in learning, teaching and research.

Libraries support the development and growth of quality theological education by:

- the provision of scholarly library resources (both print and online)
- engagement with the University's learning, teaching and research communities to deliver specialist library services
- development and promotion of our unique resources and special collections
- a commitment to the benefits of the library network working collaboratively in the provision of these resources and services.

All members of the University are entitled to access the University Library Hub, its associated libraries, and to receive a University ID Card. A Libraries Brochure available online via the Library Hub provides further information about all libraries associated with the University. Access – which includes borrowing rights, opening & access hours, and access to reserve collections, special collections and sensitive materials – is subject to reasonable constraints, which may be imposed by each library affiliated to the University.

LIBRARY HUB

Introduction

The Library Hub - <http://library.divinity.edu.au/> provides access to an extensive range of online resources (databases, ejournals and eBooks) and a wealth of other library-related information. It is an online one-stop shop for all things “library”, providing links to many useful tools and resources, including academic resources, library special collections, FAQs, and a range of general and subject-based LibGuides. A Google-like search box simultaneously searches multiple online resources and produces a single results list. Search results also include brief topic overviews called “Research Starters”.

Individual databases can be accessed via the A-Z Database List - <https://divinity.libguides.com/az.php>

When you use the Books & eBooks search on the Library Hub home page you are searching UDCat. This is a combined library catalogue that allows the simultaneous searching of multiple libraries associated with the University. The search can be expanded to include WorldCat, the world's most comprehensive library database, enabling users to identify resources held in library collections around the world.

Access

Library Hub access is available on site at all libraries. Remote access to licensed content requires a username (email address) and password. These login details are the same as those used to access the University's Theological Academic Management System (TAMS) and Learning Management System (ARK).

Students: Will automatically receive their login details as part of the enrolment process.

Staff/Members: All other eligible members of the University (including Honorary Researchers and University Scholars) who wish to access the Library Hub need to complete an IT Systems Access Form prior to them being issued with their username and password. The form needs to be approved by their home College. Please forward the completed application electronically to: forms@divinity.edu.au

LEAN LIBRARY - new in 2020

Lean Library is a browser extension that delivers full-text content to you, regardless of where you are linking from. All staff and students are encouraged to download the Lean Library browser extension at <https://www.leanlibrary.com/download/> Select University of Divinity as your institution.

Lean Library will automatically detect when you are on a website that contains content that the Library Hub subscribes to. Lean Library will also automatically deliver you open access versions (if one is available), when the Library Hub does not provide subscription access. See this page for more information - <https://library.divinity.edu.au/lean-library.html>

UNIVERSITY ID CARDS

The same University ID card can be used at all libraries associated with the University. Your card and contact details need to be added to each library's management system. This will generally already be done for you at the primary library associated with your home institution. If you wish to access any other library collections, please remember to register at each additional library before you borrow for the first time.

Students: A University ID card will be generated for all enrolled students of the University at the point of admission and may be collected from the student's home College.

Staff/Members: University ID cards for Staff and Member categories will be issued by either the relevant College of the University or the Office of the Vice-Chancellor.

RECIPROCAL BORROWING

A reciprocal borrowing arrangement between the University of Divinity and the University of Melbourne was established in 2019. All members of the University of Divinity are now able to borrow from any library of the University of Melbourne (including the Baillieu Library). Borrowing privileges do not include access to the University of Melbourne's online databases from outside of the University library branches. Members of the University of Divinity will need to enrol as borrowers of the University of Melbourne by going to the Baillieu Library and presenting their current UD staff or student card.

HISTORY OF THE LIBRARY HUB

In 2015 the University of Divinity, through its Library Committee, determined to establish a shared online Library Hub to provide a single point of access to online resources for members of the University. This aimed to create a consistent standard of access for all staff and students, regardless of their home College or associated Libraries, and to reduce costs and increase resources by using a single licence where possible for online resources available to the whole University. The project was funded under the University's Strategic Plan, and after a competitive tender process, the project was established through an agreement between the University of Divinity and Mannix Library.

The Library Hub was subsequently developed by Mannix Library on behalf of all members of the University, and officially launched in February 2016. The original agreement was for three years (concluding on 31 December 2018) and was renewed for a further period of three years, on the recommendation of the University's Library Committee, in October 2018. Since the Library Hub was established, additional resources have been added each year and significant service improvements have been provided to University staff and students. The agreement authorises the Mannix Library Manager to liaise with vendors on behalf of the University and to liaise with libraries associated with the University to maximise the benefits of the Library Hub. Arrangements made under the agreement are reviewed annually, providing an opportunity to note ongoing projects to develop and improve the Library Hub, document targets for the following year and revise the annual budget.
